8. 2018 Call for Projects – Funding Recommendation Exercise

Mr. Ulrich said the purpose of the exercise is to have the TAC weight the Guiding Principles (GPs).

Mr. Ulrich asked each member to describe the last transportation related conversation they had with another person. He reminded the group that one of the core missions of the TAC is to provide guidance to the Board and SRTC on public perception and public perspective.

Mr. Ulrich provided regional information about regional trends in population and employment. He also described other transportation trends including commute times, percentage of trips by mode, factors in quality of life (GP), bicycle facility tracking, shared-use path use, transit ridership, crash history and countermeasures, bridge and pavement condition, and others.

Ms. Ragaza-Bourassa spoke about the correlation between GPs and project selection criteria on the Call for Projects application; she mentioned that staff made sure the application questions were as quantitative as possible. She brought attention to the schedule of upcoming dates in this process and described how projects in the long-range plan (Horizon 2040) feed into the short-range (four-to-six year) plan (the Transportation Improvement Program).

She outlined the factors that apply to each of the six GPs and how those integrated into the application questions. She provided an overview of regional funding for Spokane County, noting that SRTC handles approximately 2% of the regional transportation dollars. She reported that after the final allocations the following approximate amounts are available in the Call for Projects:

- Surface Transportation Block Grant (STBG) Program - $6.9M/year
- Congestion Mitigation & Air Quality - $3M/year
- STBG Set-Aside - $530K/year

She reported that 50 project applications were received totaling $98M and we have $26M to distribute. She said SRTC is requesting the TAC to assist in the selection process by weighting the GP; they were intentionally weighted equally in the application.

Ms. Ragaza-Bourassa stated that the Board approved an allocation of 5% to small town projects and a set-aside of $3M/year in 2022/2023 for capital maintenance projects. Additionally, $3.15M was allocated to SRTC for planning, data acquisition and two studies as well as $1.834M to the Spokane Regional Transportation Management Center (SRTMC).

Mr. Ulrich started the Guiding Principles weighting exercise, which consisted of each member being given a sheet with each GP and a corresponding scale of one to seven and stickers to apply onto the scale based on importance to each member based on their personal and public perspective.

Chair Bertelsen left at 4:00 due to a prior commitment; he turned the meeting over to Vice Chair Greg Francis.

The group worked on the exercise and then there was a short break while Mr. Ulrich compiled the results.
Mr. Ulrich presented the weighted GPs from aggregated each member’s scoring sheet and asked each member to expand on why they scored the way they did and their reasons for determining what was important and what was not as important. The group discussed at length.

After the discussion, the group completed the second part of the exercise, which was assigning points to each GP on a single large page. Mr. Ulrich said that at list of projects weighted as indicated this exercise will be brought before the TAC at the July meeting.
